Why is Marketing so important?

Many of my customers ask me in the beginning of our collaboration things like "Do I really need these services?" or "I will just have a local business, I think Flyers will be enough, won't they?"

Let me clarify and tell you why marketing plays one of the most important roles in starting a new business: Flyers won't cut it. There are many businesses that rely on a working and professional marketing department. A professional marketer can help you get your business known and off the ground. Depending on the services and products it can be like moving back and forth sometimes but the most important aspect of marketing is to focus on target groups, competitors and their websites etc. As well as that, a working social media strategy will be the icing on the cake and one of the keys to make your business a profit maker.

So in general, the most important aspect about marketing is to find the right strategy to market your services and products. And for this you may consider hiring a full service marketing expert who can take care of your business marketing from scratch.

The challenge is that hiring a marketing expert in full-time can be tough in the beginning of your career on your way to self-employment. For most entrepreneurs, it wouldn't make sense to spend so much money on employees at the very beginning of their career. And that's where I come in for your business, as I treat your marketing and business as if it were my own.

Let's touch base for a free consultation and talk about your business.
